The main content area features a transcript with three segments from 'Speaker 1':

- 00:02: Hello folks, Sean Mize here for our coaching and I am excited about what I'm going to share with you today. I hope that when I kind of details here that you will be excited as well. One of the things that I have challenged, I have struggled with in the past. Perhaps you have struggled with in the past. I know that I know that I've seen many multiple clients in the past. Struggling with this is that you have a goal, you have a big goal, you have a small goal, you have something that needs to be done, and when you put all the steps together, either it looks like it's no big deal or it looks like it's a really big deal, but what happens is that as you begin to dig into doing each one of those steps, the process drags on and on and on and on and on.
- 00:53: Three months down the road, six months down the road, nine months down the road, you still haven't finished it. So for example, perhaps you've. You started writing a book three months ago, six months ago, nine months ago, two years ago. You started writing a book and well, it's still not finished or perhaps three months ago, six months ago, nine months ago, two years ago, you started to do to create a coaching program, but it's still not finished. Three months ago, six months ago, nine months ago, two years ago, you started to create a product funnel or a product or redesign your website, etc. Etc. And it's still not donE. I'm pleased with. The matter is if you were to look at the steps that needs to be done, if you were to do a one on one coaching session with any kind of productivity coach and you were to break down the steps and you were to say, okay, well this step will take this long and this step will take this long and this step will take this long.
- 01:49: When you look at it, it's, wow, it's 25 hours worth of work, but I haven't been able to do it two years and here's the thing. It's not just you. It happens to me. It happened to other people. it happens to other clients in the real world when it comes to doing that next step. As soon as you dig into that next steps, you start second guessing yourself and you start questioning yourself, am I doing it the right way to what I do? I need to learn more about this step before I do it, and before you know it, it takes a month or two to do step one and it for and to do st

A quality score notification is displayed at the bottom of the transcript area: 'How did we do on your transcript?' with a five-star rating and a close button. The right-hand sidebar contains a media player with controls for Play, Back 5s, Speed (1x), and Volume. Below the player is a 'No Tab' notification and a text input field for notes. A message from 'Mary from Temi' is shown, titled 'Transcript Quality', explaining that Temi provides an overall quality score and highlights words in orange to indicate areas of struggle. The message includes a link to an article for more information. At the bottom of the sidebar is a reply input field and a chat icon.

Hello and welcome. You are now looking at the mirror image of an iphone seven. You're also looking at the artifacts that you typically find in a digital product. For example, you might typically find an audio file. You would typically find a video file. You typically find a pdf, and in some cases you even find a powerpoint presentation or Microsoft word document, and in this course we're going to focus on the applications that you'd need in order to create this digital product if you didn't have a personal computer, which it gives you. Added flexibility in being able to create content when you were on the go or to make progress on completing your digital product. The idea of course is to use a minimal number of mobile applications as well as a mobile hardware, so at the outset it shouldn't be necessary for you to make extensive purchases of either hardware or software. However, there is a minimal level of both hardware and software that you will need and we'll start by going over the hardware in the next video. But that said, for the most part, you will be able to use the native applications already pre installed on your apple iphone. With that, thanks and I will see you in the first video.
